

Mid-East Prophecy Update – November 6th, 2016

- For today's prophecy update I'll kindly ask you bear with me as I talk about some weighty matters God has put on my heart.
- Before I do, I think it's incumbent upon me to preface today's update with a warning of sorts such that, it will be a hard teaching.
- This because, it was a very difficult one to prepare, and I'm certain that it will be also be a very difficult one to receive as well.

- Please know that I make absolutely no apologies for the intensity of today's prophecy update, this by virtue of its serious nature.

Throughout scripture, we're told that when God sent his prophets to warn the people, about that which was coming upon them, they did not want to hear it. One such scripture is in Micah 2:6, which says, "Do not prophesy," their prophets say. "Do not prophesy about these things; disgrace will not overtake us."

Jeremiah 6:14–16 (NKJV) — 14 They have also healed the hurt of My people slightly, Saying, 'Peace, peace!' When there is no peace. 15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? No! They were not at all ashamed; Nor did they know how to blush. Therefore they shall fall among those who fall; At the time I punish them, They shall be cast down," says the LORD. 16 Thus says the LORD: "Stand in the ways and see, And ask for the old paths, where the good way is, And walk in it; Then you will find rest for your souls. But they said, 'We will not walk in it.' 17 Also, I set watchmen over you, saying, 'Listen to the sound of the trumpet!' But they said, 'We will not listen.' 18 Therefore hear, you nations, And know, O congregation, what is among them. 19 Hear, O earth! Behold, I will certainly bring calamity on this people— The fruit of their thoughts, Because they have not heeded My words Nor My law, but rejected it.

Ezekiel 13:10–16 (NKJV) — 10 "Because, indeed, because they have seduced My people, saying, 'Peace!' when there is no peace—and one builds a wall, and they plaster it with untempered mortar—11 say to those who plaster it with untempered mortar, that it will fall. There will be flooding rain, and you, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall tear it down. 12 Surely, when the wall has fallen, will it not be said to you, 'Where is the mortar with which you plastered it?' " 13 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "I will cause a stormy wind to break forth in My fury; and there shall be a flooding rain in My anger, and great hailstones in fury to consume it. 14 So I will break down the wall you have plastered with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundation will be uncovered; it will fall, and you shall be consumed in the midst of it. Then you shall know that I am the LORD. 15 "Thus will I accomplish My wrath on the wall and on those who have plastered it with untempered mortar; and I will say to you, 'The wall is no more, nor those who plastered it, 16 that is, the prophets of Israel who prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and who see visions of peace for her when there is no peace,' " says the Lord GOD.

This is reminiscent of Paul's warning to Timothy, in the fourth chapter of his second epistle, when in the last days, people would not listen to God's word and warning, and instead appoint and accept false prophets and false teachers to only tell them what their ears were itching to hear. Sadly, this is an apt description of the church as a whole today, especially here in America.

1 Thessalonians 5:3 For while they are saying, "Peace and security!" sudden destruction comes upon them, as labor pains upon a pregnant woman. And they shall not escape.

It's with this preface that I deem it necessary to begin with the revelation on Friday of Hillary Clinton's campaign chairman, John Podesta's involvement with the satanic ritual known as "Spirit Cooking." To say that this is unspeakably evil would be a gross understatement. This for a number of reasons, not the least of which is that it's a practice so evil, I dare not even describe it. Add to this the Wikileaks revelation that Clinton Foundation donors also funded the Islamic State. Oh how I wish this were all that was done in secret, but is now being shouted from the rooftops, as it were. The question becomes, is anyone even listening?

- As a watchman I must sound the alarm and warn people of that which will be coming upon not just the US, but the entire world.
- As I've often said, I would rather sound the alarm and have nothing happen than not sound it only to have something happen.
- One of the main reasons is that we must be watching and ready not knowing the day or the hour of the Lord's imminent return.

- Two days from today, which is about 48-hours, voters will go to the polls and they'll cast their vote for the future of this nation.
- As such, the jury is still out on how, or even when, and I should probably add if, the results will be in as early as Tuesday night.
- At the risk of sounding too alarmist, I would submit that, anything could happen between now and Tuesday, and even beyond.

In the last two days, I've had two friends on the mainland text me about trusted sources, privy to intelligence expressing concern about the possibility of an attack on the Continental US the day before the election. One said, and I quote, "there's an avalanche of evil surfacing right now." Another source said, "it's shared inter-agency and when that happens; it's a serious threat."

Yesterday, Reuters published a report that U.S. authorities had issued a warning of an al Qaeda threat to the presidential election. Here's some of what the report had to say, "Federal officials have warned authorities in New York City, Texas and Virginia about an unspecific threat of attacks by al Qaeda militants around Election Day, putting local law enforcement on alert days before the vote, officials said on Friday. ...CBS News first reported the threat of attacks, which it said were possible on Monday. ...Authorities were assessing whether there was a plot and whether the states named were real targets or misdirection. "Another possibility is that this is just an attempt to inspire someone here to mount an attack," the official said.

This threat is pertaining to before the election, but there's another threat subsequent to the election, and it's that of Obama's threat to ambush Israel at the UN, prior to leaving office. The Wall Street Journal is referring to it as, "Obama's Israel Surprise."

Speaking of Obama's Israel surprise, none of us should be surprised that the geopolitical developments in the Middle East have taken a back seat to the presidential election in the United States. The problem is that what's happening in the Middle East has not slowed or calmed down. If anything, it's sped and revved up, as evidenced by this report from The Jerusalem Post, in which they ask, "How worrying is Russia's growing presence in the Middle East?" Quoting the post, "With tensions already high in the Middle East, Russia is upping the ante, deploying its sole aircraft carrier to the Mediterranean Sea just weeks after sending advanced anti-aircraft weaponry to Syria. ...The growing Russian presence in the eastern Mediterranean sea, with an aircraft carrier capable of detecting many, if not all, Israeli military activities, coupled with the advanced S-300 and S-400 air-defense batteries it has already deployed to Syria, is a cause of concern to many. ... Israeli concerns were raised during a recent phone call from Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu to Russian President Vladimir Putin, as well as during a meeting of senior Israeli and Russian officials at the Foreign Ministry in Jerusalem on October 27.

- While I'm keenly aware that all this can be terrifying for some and depressing for others, I'd suggest it could be a good thing.
- Lest you think I'm being too morose or morbid, let me hasten to say often times it takes a shake up, in order for us to wake up.
- I'll take it a step further and suggest that much wisdom and knowledge comes packaged with much sorrow and grief to this end.

Ecclesiastes 1:18 (NIV) — 18 For with much wisdom comes much sorrow; the more knowledge, the more grief.

Ecclesiastes 7:2-6 (NKJV) 2 Better to go to the house of mourning Than to go to the house of feasting, For that is the end of all men; And the living will take it to heart. 3 Sorrow is better than laughter, For by a sad countenance the heart is made better. 4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, But the heart of fools is in the house of mirth. 5 It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise Than for a man to hear the song of fools. 6 For like the crackling of thorns under a pot, So is the laughter of the fool. This also is vanity.

Ephesians 6:10-17 (NIV) — 10 Finally, be strong in the Lord and in his mighty power. 11 Put on the full armor of God, so that you can take your stand against the devil's schemes. 12 For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms. 13 Therefore put on the full armor of God, so that when the day of evil comes, you may be able to stand your ground, and after you have done everything, to stand. 14 Stand firm then, with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness in place, 15 and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. 16 In addition to all this, take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. 17 Take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

- If you've never called upon the name of the Lord to be saved, (Romans 10:13), I implore you to do so today while there's time!
